PREFACE.

The object of this record is to preserve the material collected by many years of research in tracing my ancestry in the Eaton, Swetland and Reynolds families, and their descendants from certain individuals. In order to make the record more complete, I have copied from pamphlets, manuscripts and various historical sources, and especially from genealogical manuscripts by the late Prof. Daniel C. Eaton of Yale University.

If the Records here given shall aid others in making a complete genealogical record of the Eaton family, then my object will have been fully realized.

JANE ADALINE (EATON) WIGHT.

Springfield, Massachusetts.

January, Nineteen Hundred.

EATON GENEALOGY.

The following record of the Dover, England, Eatons was taken from the reports presented before the Eaton Family Association in 1888 and 1890 by Prof. Daniel Cady Eaton of New Haven, Conn., who died June 29, 1895.

"The names of the Dover, England, Eatons were discovered in the Registers of the Church of St. James the Apostle in Dover, by Mrs. Minima Harman, of Llugwy, Machynlleth, North Wales.

The extracts, certified by Rev. A. Howell Smith, the Rector of that Parish in 1888, read as follows :—

MARRIAGES.

1630 John Eaton and Abigaile Doman, April 5,
Walter Richards, Rector.

CHRISTENINGS.

1624 Jane, daughter of Henry Daman, August 15.

* 1630 Mary, the daughter of John Eaton, March 20

* 1633 John, the son of John Eaton, October 7.

Walter Richards, Rector.

It should be remembered that at this time, the year began about the first of April and ended in March, so that in our present style the year of Mary's birth would be written in 1631.

Mrs. Harman was compelled to discontinue her work on account of ill health, and the search was resumed in 1889 by Dr. Joseph Jackson Howard, a most learned antiquarian. He found a record in St. Mary's Church at Dover showing that John Eaton, the infant son of John Eaton, died at the age of three months and a few days, the record being :—

* It should be remembered that the year ended March 21st, or perhaps March 25th.

BURIALS.

1633 January 27, John, son of John Eaton.

It should be remembered that the year ended March 21 or March 25

The Church of St. Mary the Virgin at Dover was the principal parish church of the Eaton family, but the registers of both churches (St. James' and St. Mary's) contain records of the family. The stone-cut memorials are at St. Mary's

The earliest known ancestor of the family was William Eaton, of Dover, Eng., who died before the year 1584, probably not long before, and left a will which has not been found. His widow, Jane Eaton, died that year. She made her will August 27, 1584, and it was proved December 29 of the same year. She was the executrix of the will of her late husband, William Eaton. Her body was to be buried in the churchyard of St. James at Dover. She gave special directions for the education of Peter and Nicholas, that "they shall be kept one year or more in France, to learn the French tongue, and shall afterwards be put to some science or occupation." She makes her son-in-law, Jacques Huggenson, her sole executor, and mentions "my other children." The wife of Jacques or James Huggenson was Joyce Eaton, and one of the "other children" was Barbara, wife of —Allen. Barbara Allen received letters of administration on her father's estate January 27, 1584-5, a few weeks after her mother's death.

James Hugesson, for so the name is more commonly spelled, had a son James, and probably other children also.

The four sons of William and Jane Eaton were, William, John, Peter and Nicholas. The youngest son, Nicholas, was born in 1573, as appears from his age of 53 given in a marriage-license dated 1626. He was a church-warden of St. Mary's in 1603. He died in 1636-37, and was buried in the church of St. Mary the Virgin, in Dover, March 21 of that year. Nicholas Eaton was a jurate of Dover in 1619, and had at some time been Mayor of the town. He had a large estate, as appears by the large bequest of 900£ and shares of certain vessels to his youngest son, besides numerous other gifts to relatives and friends, and ample provision for his oldest son. Jurate Nicholas Eaton was married twice: first to Katherine Master, November 2, 1596, and secondly to Mrs. Joan Gibbs, widow of John Gibbs, of Horsledown, and daughter of — Tiddeman, of Dover. His first wife was the mother of his seven children. His second marriage took place in 1626. Mrs. Joan Eaton was buried June 14, 1635, having made an elaborate will the tenth day of the preceding April. Her husband's will equally elaborate, was dated December 6, 1636 and was proved by his son William, the 29th of March following.

"The children of Nicholas and Katherine (Master, Eaton, were John, William, Elizabeth, Jane. John (2nd), Nicholas and Thomas. The first John probably died before the birth of the second: he was baptized March 12, 1599. William, the second child, was baptized January 9, 1602. Elizabeth, baptized February 10, 1603. Jane, baptized March 28, 1606. John, (2nd), baptized August 21, 1611. Nicholas, baptized October 11, 1612. Thomas, baptized February 20, 1613

The fifth child, John, is mentioned in the will of his father's second wife, dated April 10, 1635, being set down for 10£, his older brother having 30£, and the youngest 10£, and the unspecified "residue." In the will of his father, dated December 6, 1636, he is not mentioned at all. It is a fair inference that he had already received his portion from his father, and gone away with it.

The searches in and near Dover have failed to discover any other John Eaton besides the son of Nicholas who could have been the husband of Mrs. Abigail Daman, and the inference is strong that the two Johns, John the son of Nicholas, and John who settled in Dedham were one and the same man "

FIRST GENERATION.

"John¹ Eaton, who settled in Dedham, Mass., was married in Dover, England, in 1630, and had two children baptized there, and one buried: His wife and her children gave in their names as "Imbarked in the Elizabeth and Ann, bound for New England," April 27, 1635, just seventeen days later than the signing of Mrs. Joan Eaton's will. Other records show that Mrs. Abigail Eaton, (wife of John), aged 35 years, and two children, Mary, aged four, and Thomas, aged one, were among the passengers who embarked at London in the "Elizabeth and Ann" in April, 1635, and it is probable that the husband and father came with them, as he took the freeman's oath May 25, 1636. In 1637, John Eaton removed from Watertown to Dedham, Mass., where he died November 17, 1658, leaving his wife Abigail, son John, and daughters Mary and Abigail. The son Thomas who was brought from England in 1635, died in 1639 and a son Jacob, born in 1642, died in 1646."

SECOND GENERATION.

"John² (born about 1636, died, perhaps, 1694), lived in Dedham, Mass., as has the senior line of his descendants to this day. By his first wife Alice, whose family name is not known, he had seven sons and one daughter: the dates of their birth are all recorded. Only four sons lived to maturity, John, Thomas, William and Jonathan."

THIRD GENERATION.

Jonathan³ (born 1681, married Lydia Starr, about 1706, died in 1748), settled on the Quinnebaug river near Killingly, Conn., and built a mill where now is the village of Putnam. He was the first deacon of the church at Thompson, Conn. He was greatly respected by his neighbors, and is the only grandson of John¹ whose gravestone can be seen at the present time.

His wife, Lydia Starr, was the great grand daughter of George Bunker of Charlestown, Mass., who was the owner of the top of that "hill of glory" called by his name. (See history of the Starr family). "They had seven daughters and four sons Their names were: —Lydia' (Chandler), Keziah

(Cleveland), Alice (Leavens), Susanna, Jerusha, Hannah (Johnson), Jonathan, John, Penelope, (baptized March 26, 1727), Comfort, (baptized September 28, 1729) and Marston. The sons remained at Killingly for some years after their father's death, two of them running the old mill."

FOURTH GENERATION.

Comfort⁴ Eaton (born September 25, 1729) married Abigail Cooper, in Thompson Conn., and had one son named Comfort. Abigail died soon afterwards. The son, Comfort, was born June 22, 1750. His father deserted him when only three or four years old, and went to Middletown, Conn, and married Mary Hall, in the summer or fall of 1755. She was the daughter of John and Mercy or Mary (Ranney) Hall, and was born February 28, 1737. Comfort and Mary (Hall) Eaton had two children, Prudence, born 1756 and Sylvanus, born, probably, in 1758, as he took the freeman's oath in 1780, when he must have been of age. Sometime between 1759 and 1767, Comfort, the father, drove his cattle to Boston, and was murdered for his hat full of dollars.

The records of the Congregational church in Portland, Conn., have these three entries :—

"Prudence Eaton, child of Comfort, baptized May 13, 1756.

Prudence Eaton and David Hale married November
14, 1776.

Sylvanus Eaton and Sarah Goodrich married February 21, 1780."

David and Prudence (Eaton) Hale had a daughter, Molly, born September 22, 1777.

Ancestry of Mercy Ranney, mother of Mary Hall.

FIRST GENERATION.

Thomas¹ Ranney, it is supposed, came from Scotland. He married Mary Hubbard, in May 1659. She was born in Hartford, Conn January 16, 1642, daughter of George Hubbard and Elizabeth Watts, daughter of Richard Watts.

EATON GENEALOGY.

SECOND GENERATION.

John¹ Ranney, son of Thomas and Mary (Hubbard) Ranney, was born November 14, 1662. He married Hannah Turner, who was born in Middletown, Conn., June 20, 1675, or possibly 1676, and was probably the daughter of Edward Turner, who went from Milford, to Middletown, Conn. in 1665.

THIRD GENERATION.

Mercy³ Ranney daughter of John and Hannah (Turner) Ranney, was born December 28, 1695. She married John Hall, July 19, 1722. She died October 1, 1762. John Hall married second, Sarah Gaines, September 30, 1765. He died February 3, 1767, and Sarah, his wife, died in 1770.

THEIR CHILDREN.

FOURTH GENERATION.

1. John, born June 17, 1723, died August 23, 1754.
2. Hannah born April 30, 1726.
3. Mercy, born September 19, 1728, married Isaac Waterman, Jr., in 1746, and had nine children.
4. Gideon, born March 20, 1734.
5. Mary, born February 28, 1737, married Comfort Eaton and had two children, as before stated, named Prudence⁵ and Sylvanus⁵.

Sylvanus Eaton⁵ served in the Revolutionary Army as a private in Capt. Joseph Churchill's Company of Chatham, Conn. A letter from his sister at that time, is now in possession of Miss Ellen M. Eaton of Springfield, Mass. The following is a copy. It is addressed to

SYLVANUS EATON,

Captain Churchel's Company,
New York.

Chatham Aug. ye 29th, 1776.

Loving Brother :

I take this opportunity to write to you that through the goodness of God I am well as I hope these lines will find you. I have no news to write only Abigail White is very sick with the throat ail.

We have been very much concerned for fear you was taken. Mr. Butler says you got there a Sunday, but there are now thirteen sail that come up in the Sound a Saturday so there is no passing by water. We hear you are to be stationed on Governor's Island which Mr. Butler thinks is very dangerous but I hope you will put your trust in the Lord who is able to preserve you in the greatest danger and trouble. Mother says she forgot it in her letter, but she would have you remember her to Mr. David Haile. Their relations are well. I hope you will send to us as often as you can, for we all want to hear from there. We are afraid. Give my regards to Mr. Jonathan Haile and tell him his friends are well. Remember me to Mr. Gideon Hourlburt. Mrs. Prudence Haile is well and says she would send you a letter if you would send her one first. So I must conclude, and may the Lord bless you and keep you from all sins, and in due time return you home with joy. So no more at present, but I remain your loving sister,

PRUDENCE EATON.

FIFTH GENERATION.

Sylvanus Eaton,⁵ born in 1758, married Sarah Goodrich February 21, 1780, in Chatham, Conn. She was the daughter of Richard and Martha Goodrich, and was born in 1758. Sylvanus died in Springfield, Mass. (probably) in 1803, and was buried in East Longmeadow. A marker, obtained from the Sons of the American Revolution, was placed upon his grave May 30, 1894, by Mrs. Jane A. (Eaton) Wight. Sarah, his wife, married second, Lemuel Parsons of Springfield, November 19, 1807. She died in Springfield, Mass., August, 1832, aged 74 years.

SWETLAND OR SWEATLAND GENEALOGY.

"There were three brothers, John, Joseph and Benjamin, who came from Sweden and settled in Somers, Conn. They spelled their name Sweetland, and probably took it from the country from whence they came, Sweden, which is called 'Sweet-land,' as names in those times were taken from objects. In 1760, the heirs of John, Joseph and Benjamin petitioned the General Assembly, held at Hartford, Conn., May, 1760, against John Richards, administrator, showing that Benjamin, their ancestor, formerly of New London, by his last will, gave to his wife, Hannah Swetland, certain goods and chattels for her use during her life, and then to go to her heirs. Hannah died, leaving a will, and Richards as executor, who took the property and estate and used it for his own personal benefit. There was a committee appointed by the General Assembly to investigate, and they reported that Richards had in his custody a negro woman, slaves and a considerable amount of silver money, and some in old tenor bills, and a bond of £431 on interest. The committee decided that Richards should pay the heirs for the use of the property, and deliver it to the rightful owners."

The above record furnished by Eli Swetland of Springfield, Mass.

REYNOLDS GENEALOGY.

William Reynolds¹ came from England to Providence, R. I. in 1637, and paid 2s and 6p for land granted him. He owned land where now stands Brown University.

James Reynolds² son of William¹, married Deborah——. He died 1700.

Joseph Reynolds³ son of James², born November 27, 1652, married Susanna——. He died in 1722 in N. Kingston, R. I.

Samuel Reynolds⁴ son of Joseph³, married Ann Gardiner, December 31, 1732. He died in 1749, in Exeter, R. I. His wife, Ann, was daughter of Samuel Gardiner³, of East Greenwich, R. I., and Samuel³ was son of George² and Tabitha Tefft Gardiner. Tabitha was born in 1653, and died in 1722. George² died in 1724. George Gardiner² was son of George¹ and Herodias Hicks Gardiner. George Gardiner¹ married (second) Lydia Ballou, after being divorced from Mrs Herodias (Long) Hicks. He died about 1677. Lydia Ballou married (second) William Hawkins, January 14, 1678. She died about 1722.

“Herodias (Long) Hicks, wife of George Gardiner¹, after her father died in England, was sent to London, and was married, unknown to her friends, to John Hicks, privately, in the under church of Paul's called St. Faith's Church, she being between thirteen and fourteen years old. She then came to New England with her husband, and lived at Weymouth, Mass. two and one half years, thence going to R. I. about the year 1640, and there lived till she went to Pettacomscott. Soon after going to R. I. there happened a difference between her and her husband, John Hicks, and he went away to the Dutch, carrying with him most of her estate, which had been sent her by her mother. (Her mother and brother lost their lives and estate in his Majesty's service she says.) After her desertion by John Hicks, she became the wife of George Gardiner¹, and by him had many children. May 11, 1658, she went with her babe at her breast, from Newport, R. I. to Weymouth on foot, a distance of about sixty miles, to deliver her religious testimony, for which she was carried to Boston before Gov John Endicott, who sentenced her to be whipped with ten lashes, as well as her companion, Mary Stanton, who went with her to help bear her child. After the whipping with a three fold knotted whip of cords, she was continued for fourteen days longer in prison. All for being a Baptist or Quaker."

The narrator (Bishop's New England Judged) says "the woman came a very sore journey, and (according to man) hardly accomplishable, through a wilderness of about sixty miles between R. I. and Boston. After the savage, inhuman and bloody execution upon her, she kneeled down and prayed the Lord to forgive them."

Herodias Gardiner, married (third) John Porter.

(See Genealogical Dic. of R. I. and Gen. Dictionary of New England, Vol. 2nd.)

ANCESTRY AND DESCENDANTS OF THEOPHILUS WHALE OR WHALEY OR WHALLEY.

Theophilus Whale or Whaley was born in 1616. He married Elizabeth Mills, in Virginia, Kingstown, R. I., and settled in Narraganset, R. I. (See history of Thomas Reynolds⁵.) Their children were:—

1. Joane.
2. Anna.
3. Theodosia, married Robert Spencer, July 15, 1697.
4. Elizabeth, married Charles Hazleton.
5. Martha, married Joseph Hopkins, father of Judge Hopkins. Martha married (second) Robert Spencer. She died in 1773, aged 93 years.
6. Lydia, married John Sweet.
7. Samuel, married Hopkins, and (second) Harrington.

All the New England Whales or Whaleys descended from Samuel of So. Kingston, R. I., the only son of Theophilus.

Elizabeth, wife of Theophilus, died seven or ten years before her husband, and was buried in Kingston, R. I.

Theophilus was 103 years old when he died, and was buried in West Greenwich, R. I., in Judge Hopkins' lot, but has no stone or monument, although he was buried with military honors. He had wealthy parents, and a college education. He is quoted as saying that till he was eighteen years old, he knew not what it was to want a servant to attend him with a silver ewer and napkin whenever he wanted to wash his hands. He came to Virginia, R. I., before he had reached his majority, and served there in a military capacity, but soon returned to England, and was an officer in the Parliamentary Army. In 1649 his regiment took part in the execution of King Charles 1st. Theophilus came the second time from England in 1660, and married while in Virginia, R. I. where part of his children were born. He was a Baptist. His residence was near the head of Pettaguamscut Pond, in So. Kingston, R. I. He lived by fishing, weaving, and teaching, being conversant with Hebrew, Greek and Latin, and his services as a penman were brought into requisition in executing the deeds and papers of his neighbors.

It is conjectured that Theophilus may have been identical with Robert Whaley, brother of Edward, the Regicide, and that he may have changed his name for some reasons connected with the execution of King Charles. The visits of distinguished men from Boston and other places, and his silence in regard to his previous history, perhaps account for the tradition that he was one of the regicide judges, and had signed the death warrant of King Charles I. He was first cousin of Oliver Cromwell, being a descendent from "William the Conqueror," on his mother's side.

Major General Edward Whalley descended from the family of Whalley, which figured in England in the reign of Henry VI.

Richard Whalley, Esq, of Kirton, was a man of great opulence; he died in 1583, aged 84 years. His eldest son and heir was:—

Thomas Whalley, Esq, who married Elizabeth————— and had several children.

1. Richard of Kirton, a man of mark, sheriff, etc., married (second) Frances Cromwell. She was daughter of Sir Henry Cromwell, and sister of Robert Cromwell, and aunt of Oliver Cromwell, Protector of England, who was born April 25, 1599, in Huntingdon.

2. Walter Whalley, D D. educated at Pembroke Hall, Cambridge.
3. Thomas Whalley, educated in Trinity College, Cambridge.

Richard and Frances (Cromwell) Whalley had several children, namely: Thomas, Edward the famed "Colonel," and Henry.

Col. Edward Whalley and William Goffe, his son-in-law, who was a major-general of the same army, were among the number of sixty-seven judges who condemned Charles Stuart to death, and were also among the fifty-nine who signed his death warrant. They escaped to New England and landed in Boston in 1660. They were concealed in New Haven, Conn., from 1661 to 1664 by John Davenport, in the "Judges Cave." The hunt becoming too hot for them, they took refuge in a cave in N. H., where they were discovered by Indians, when they returned to Hadley, Mass., and were harbored by Rev. Mr. Russel many years. William Goffe was 70 years old when the assault was made upon the town of Hadley, and he was called "an angel sent from Heaven," for the help he rendered as leader at that time. Edward Whalley was 15 years younger than his son-in-law, Goffe. Whalley died in 1675, a very old man, and was buried in Hadley, Mass.

Mrs. Lydia Chickering, daughter of Capt. Daniel Fisher of Dedham, Mass., one of the Magistrates of the Colony, was born July 14, 1652, in Dedham, Mass., and died July 17, 1737, in Needham, Mass. She went to Hadley, where for one year waited upon Col. Whalley and Col. Goffe.

On the South side of the Center Church in New Haven is the tablet to William Hooke, the friend and chaplain of Cromwell. The wife of William Hooke was sister to Whalley and cousin to Oliver Cromwell. The parting gift of William Hooke to the church, was his "home lot" on the south-west corner of College and Chapel streets, New Haven, Conn. He returned to England.
